6. High-level political forum on sustainable development, convened under the auspices of the Economic and Social Council

The General Assembly, in its resolution 67/290, decided that the high-level political forum on sustainable development under the auspices of the Council would be convened annually by the President of the Council and would have a thematic focus reflecting the integration of the three dimensions of sustainable development, in line with the thematic focus of the activities of the Council and consistent with the 2030 development agenda. The theme of the high-level political forum on sustainable development to be convened under the auspices of the Council during its 2018 session is "Transformation towards sustainable and resilient societies" (General Assembly resolution 70/299).

Pursuant to General Assembly resolutions 67/290 and 70/1, the high-level political forum, under the auspices of the Council, would carry out regular thematic reviews on the follow-up and implementation of sustainable development commitments and objectives, including those related to the means of implementation, within the context of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. In its resolution 70/299, the General Assembly further decided that the high-level political forum under the auspices of the Council, without prejudice to the integrated, indivisible and interlinked nature of the Sustainable Development Goals, should discuss a set of Goals and their interlinkages, with a view to facilitating an in-depth review of progress made on all Goals over the course of a four-year cycle, with means of implementation, including with respect to Goal 17, reviewed annually.

For the high-level political forum on sustainable development to be convened under the auspices of the Council during its 2018 session, the General Assembly decided, in its resolution 70/299, that Sustainable Development Goals 6, 7, 11, 12 and 15 should be reviewed in depth, in addition to the annual review of Goal 17.

In accordance with General Assembly resolutions 70/1 and 70/299, the follow-up and review at the high-level political forum will be informed by an annual progress report on the Sustainable Development Goals to be prepared by the Secretary-General in cooperation with the United Nations system. Every four years, a more scientific and analytical Global Sustainable Development Report will be prepared to complement the Secretary-General's annual progress report. In response to the invitation by the General Assembly in its resolution 70/1, the President of the Council conducted a process of consultations on the scope, methodology and frequency of the Global Sustainable Development Report, the outcome of which was reflected in the annex to the ministerial declaration of the session of the high-level political forum in 2016.[3] The Global Sustainable Development Report will be published in 2019.

Pursuant to General Assembly resolutions 67/290, 70/1 and 70/299, the high-level political forum, under the auspices of the Council, should hold voluntary national reviews by all countries, including countries in special situations, with the aim of facilitating the sharing of experiences, including successes, challenges and lessons learned. The Assembly, in its resolution 70/299, requested that the Secretary-General update and make available voluntary common reporting guidelines, as a suggested tool in the preparations for voluntary national reviews, taking into account feedback from countries participating in the voluntary national reviews at the high-level political forum under the auspices of the Council.

The General Assembly, in its resolution 67/290, invited the regional commissions to contribute to the work of the high-level political forum on sustainable development

(f) Prevention and control of non-communicable diseases

In its resolution 2013/12, the Council requested the Secretary-General to establish the United Nations Inter-Agency Task Force on the Prevention and Control of Non-communicable Diseases by expanding the mandate of the existing Ad Hoc Inter-Agency Task Force on Tobacco Control, with this Task Force to be convened and led by the World Health Organization (WHO), to report to the Council through the Secretary-General and to incorporate the work of the Ad Hoc Inter-Agency Task Force on Tobacco Control, including the work to support the accelerated implementation by parties to the WHO Framework Convention on Tobacco Control.

In the same resolution, the Council requested the Secretary-General, in close collaboration with the Director General of WHO and in full consultation with Member States through WHO, to develop the terms of reference for the United Nations Inter-Agency Task Force on the Prevention and Control of Non-communicable Diseases, incorporating, but not limited to, the work of the Ad Hoc Inter-Agency Task Force on Tobacco Control and the current work of the secretariat of WHO to develop a division of tasks and responsibilities, as exemplified in appendix 4 to the WHO Global Action Plan for the Prevention and Control of Non-communicable Diseases 2013–2020 (see also Council resolutions 2014/10 and 2015/8).

(g) Calendar of conferences and meetings in the economic, social and related fields

In its resolution 66/233 on the pattern of conferences, the General Assembly requested the Secretary-General to propose, at its sixty-seventh session, a comprehensive review of conference servicing highlighting any duplications and redundancies. The Secretary-General, in paragraph 13 of his report on the pattern of conferences (A/67/127 and A/67/127/Corr.1), indicated that the Secretariat had reviewed the process of preparing the biennial calendar of conferences and meetings, which incorporated the provisional biennial calendar of meetings in the economic, social and related fields. He further indicated that the biennial calendar contained almost two thirds of the meetings listed in the provisional biennial calendar and that the time and effort to prepare, translate and issue two almost identical calendars so close to each other might be considered a duplication and redundant.

In paragraph 15 of his report, the Secretary-General therefore recommended that the General Assembly might wish to invite the Council to reconsider the necessity of reviewing its provisional biennial calendar of conferences and meetings in the economic, social and related fields.

Subsequently, upon the recommendation of the Committee on Conferences, the General Assembly, in its resolution 67/237, concurred with the observations in paragraph 13 of the report of the Secretary-General on the pattern of conferences regarding the biennial calendar of meetings of the Council.

In addition, as indicated in paragraph 23 of the report of the Committee on Conferences (A/67/32), most delegations expressed the view that the issue should initially be brought to the attention of the Bureau of the Council, through its secretariat, and then to the Council as a whole. Therefore, it was suggested that the Council might then wish to review paragraph (b) of its decision 281 (LXIII), on the need for a biennial calendar of conferences and meetings in the economic, social and related fields, in the context of the mandate set out by the General Assembly in section II, paragraph 16, of its resolution 66/233.

The General Assembly, in its resolution 71/262, reaffirmed the need to address the issue of duplications and redundancies in conference servicing, and noted in that regard that the Council had decided, in its resolution 2013/13, to consider at a later date the necessity of reviewing its provisional biennial calendar of conferences and meetings in the economic, social and related fields in the light of the ongoing intergovernmental consultations on the further strengthening of the Council.

The Council, in its resolution 2017/27, decided, on an exceptional basis, to include the item in the agenda of its 2018 session and requested the Secretariat to propose to the Bureau of the Council a streamlined list of bodies whose conferences and meetings should be included in future provisional calendars of conferences to be considered by the Council on a biennial basis, starting at its 2019 session.
